

KINETIC FACADE

“scintillating semblance”

WORKING

A kinetic facade is the one that changes dynamically rather than being static or fixed, allowing movement to occur on building surface.

It creates an expanding and contracting effect to produce random surface movement in response to local climate conditions.

Normal facade
(During morning and evening)

Facade when contracting
(Opaque, non reflecting panel blocking harsh noon sun rays.)

